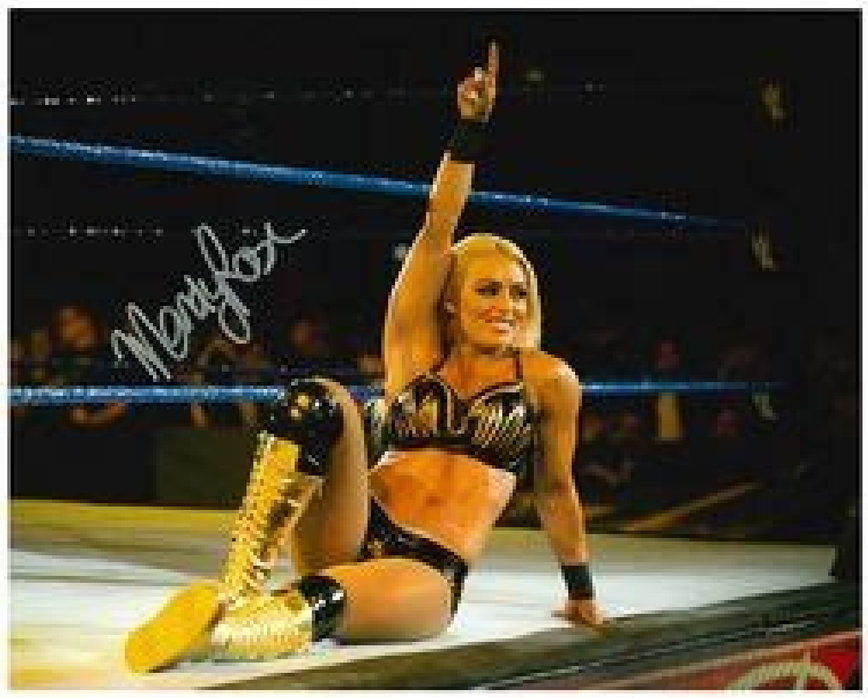
Wwe wrestlemania 35 results grades bleacher report



EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. -- The story was made at the WWE WrestleMania 35 Main Event when a women’s trio headed the show for the first time in the company’s history. Round Rousey, Becky Lynch and Charlotte Flair sat on a triple threat to both women’s championships, which fan favorite Lynch took home a tremendous seven months into his career. Elsewhere on the card, Kofi Kingston became the second African American to capture the WWE Championship when he beat Daniel Bryan, and Seth Rollins killed the beast by taking down Brock Lesnar for the World Championship. In fact, seven of the nine titles defended at WrestleMania 35 changed hands, and fan favorites overwhelmingly overwhelmed the heels on Sunday night. A recording of the $16.9 million MetLife Stadium was disgusted from the event – the tallest figure the stadium has ever pulled. WWE announced 82,265 fans for the show, the third most in WrestleMania history. CBS Sports were with you all Sunday, updating this story with the latest results and highlights from the biggest show of the year. Buddy Murphy (c) through the fall to win the title (Kickoff Show): Talk in a perfect way to start things on the kickoff show with this high-energy opener. Nese scored the shocking discomfort with a win that could mean that a call is in Murphy’s future after a memorable six-month reign of the title. The match perfectly combined the aerial performer of 205 Live and the cruise weight division with the hard blow that will Often in Japan. Murphy suffered a cut over his early left eye and nest almost scored an early fall after an impressive spring break of the apron. Nese continued impressing the corkscrew corkscrew and 450 splashes, each of which could only get a count of two. The end came after Nese was able to extend his foot to the rope to avoid losing after being hit by Murphy’s Law. Nese came back with a German Murphy suplex on the second buckle and a knee on the corner for 1-2-3. If it’s time for WWE to give Murphy something else to do, the Australian seems ready. Grade: B+ Carmella wins the Womenâs Battle Royal (Kickoff Show):Ã¤ Because of the lack of fanfare or expectations this game had, the good news is that the game wasn’t a train accident. Ember Moon successfully returned from a six-month injury and hooked up with a top-string Eclipse on Mandy Rose along with a couple of other cutters. The Riott Squad received a strong reserve and teamed up for a series of eliminations until Dana Brooke teamed up to eliminate Liv Morgan and Ruby Riott. Logan seemed to have won the game after knocking out Sonia Deville and Asuka in succession, but Carmella returned to the ring from where she was hiding and took out Logan with a big kick.Grade: C Raw Tag Team Championship -- Zack Ryder & Curt Hawkins def. The Revival via pinfall to win the titles (Kickoff Show): Brock Lesnar may not have bothered The Undertaker five years ago, but Hawkins' epic streak of a different kind came to a dramatic end in their backyard. Hawkins, whose losing trick streak had extended to 0-269, joined his fellow New Yorker at Ryder to create the WrestleMania moment. Fighting from below as Revival relied on old school tactics to duplicate the team and distract the referee, the helpless duo was able to unite after a series of big moves that led to the finish line. A suplex attempt by Ryder on Wilder caused them both to fall on the top string with Ryder banging his head on the apron. Dawson then hit Hawkins with a brainstroke on I usually. But after a series of almost late falls, Hawins rolled Dawson for the pin as he previously before when the Major Brothers recaptured the team in pairs for the first time in over a decade. Grade: C+ Braun Strowman wins Andre the Giant Memorial Battle Royal (Kickoff Show): Despite a somewhat uncomfortable construction for this game, with a fight between Strowman and a couple of “Saturday Night Live” stars, the reward turned out to be high comedy and fun business. Colin Jost and Michael Che, hosts of NBC’s “Weekend Update” segment, fled and hid under the ring at the opening bell. The previous game was a good mix of spots and hard eliminations, including Strowman kicking Luke Harper and Ali off the apron while Harper, who had his first televised game in seven months, was trying to make a suplex. At the end of the game, Andrade landed a hurricane on Apollo Crews in the apron that accidentally knocked them out. While Strowman was entangled with the Hardy Boyz, the SNL stars returned to eliminate him unsuccessfully from behind. Strowman, who set a record for eliminations, left Matt and Jeff Hardy before stopping a fearful Che from a self-elimination only to knock him out of the apron. Jost, who played well the role of tactician wearing a Cleveland Browns shirt from former New York Giants star Odell Beckham Jr., was picked up and thrown to a crowd of wrestlers outside to finish the match. Grade: B WrestleMania host Alexa Bliss introduces Hulk Hogan: Bliss opened the show and told the crowd that he had them in the palm of his hand and could create a WrestleMania moment with the snap of his fingers. When she did just that, Hogan’s music hit and he cut off his normal promotion, jokingly calling the stadium the Pontiac Silverdome before making a mistake and calling it MetLife Center. Universal Championship -- Seth Rollins def. Brock Lesnar (c) sees pinfall to win the title: Once the segment of Paul Heyman power walked into the ring and said that if Lesnar wasn’t the main event, he was fighting first and leaving New York to get on a plane to Las Vegas Vegas where it is “lately appreciated”. This surprise opening match was as violent as it was short. It was also well reserved. Lesnar jumped Rollins before reaching the ring and delivered a long beating before the game started, which included an F5 on the ground and multiple pitches at the ring barrier and on the bulletin board. Rollins, whose back was covered with swollen red spots, finally used a low blow to change the momentum after three consecutive German suplexes after the bell finally rang. Rollins teamed up to beat a trio of Stomp finalists to get the upset win as Lesnar sold the injuries in the middle of the ring for an extended period. Just like in the main event of WrestleMania 31 four years ago, Rollins retired by beating the title at the top of the ramp. The clean and decisive nature of the end leads us to believe that Lesnar, who suffered only his second WWE defeat in the past two years, will take a long break to return to UFC for a heavyweight title rumor against Daniel Cormier in August.Grade: B- AJ Styles def. Randy Orton via pinfall: Styles may have been forced to wait until age 38 to make his WrestleMania debut, but “Phenomenal One” continues to build an impressive resume on the brightest stage. Although not necessarily an instant classic, this clash between the greats of all time told a great story. Styles was lucky enough to avoid a trio of RKO attempts throughout the game until Orton finally got his acclaimed finalist just for Styles to kick him dramatically. Styles landed the match site when he hooked up with a Phenomenal Forearm rigid trampoline on the ground. On his way back to the ring, Styles' attempt for one more forearm was initially countered by an attempt by Orton’s RKO. Styles, without They counteracted it with a chin breaker on the ropes and followed it with a perfect forearm finish., Grade: B SmackDown Tag Team Championship - The Uses (c) def. The bar (VÂa Pinfall), Ricochet & & & & Black and Rusev " Shinsuke Nakamura to retain titles: Reserved as a later idea to get a series of great names on the card, this turned out to be a frenzied and fun affair. Not only was there a series of well-managed comic points built, including a crazy long Caesaro jump in the center of the ring in Ricochet while Sheamus landed 10 Beats of the Bodhran in the remaining five competitors in succession. Former NXT Ricochet and Black detachments appeared to be directed towards a title victory after Black took off the ring with kicks and Ricochet landed its 630 splashes in Sheamus until the remaining four members folded at the same time to break the pin. After a wild sequence of strikes at the end of the center of the ring, Sheamus ate a couple of overlapping doubles of The Usos until Jey and Jimmy landed their tandem splashes of opposite strings to defend. Degree: B+ Shane McMahon def. The Miz through the fall (Conteo de los padres en cualquier lugar): As for the remains of cars, this was an artistic masterpiece. Not only did El Miz bring enough hatred and aggression to match the angle of protecting his McMahon's father, the creative use of the stadium for party stipulation turned out to be brilliant. An early point saw Miz George Mizanin's father jumping the barricade to put on his son to prevent McMahon from coming out of the top rope. Mizanin also entered the ring to enter McMahon's face and, after being mocked, he was beaten and beaten in the corner. The action moved exclusively outside the ring from there, as McMahon could only get two after a DDT on a lighting platform. The two were violently derailed through the crowd and in the international side of the table announced with McMahon being thrown on a railing and on the top of a golf cart behind him. Later.as the duo climbed to a scaffolding, McMahon came out of a head-shock final. The end came with McMahon begging for mercy and apologizing after the two climbed on top of a large camera platform. Miz picked up McMahon McMahon A suppro of the scaffolding platform and what it seemed to be a padded area continued. The place was not only one of the most impressive breathtaking in the history of Wrestlemania, the impact of the movement resulted in the MIZ is at the bottom of the two, which allows the araber to tell a pinfall for McMahon. Championship: IICONICS DEF. Boss' n Hug connection (c) [Via Panfall], Beth Phoenix & Natalya and Nia Jax & Tamina to win the titles: Ã, Funny spots and a surprise finish made this match a surprising moment when creating a pretty "iconic "In the process for Billie Kay and Peyton Royce. There was a lot of fun moments, including Natalya, placing Sasha Banks and Bayley at the SharpShooter at the same time. Later, Snuka and Jax combined for Double Samoan falls on the iconias. But it was the finish that made this match split a little chaotic, so good, including good attention to the tiny details. Then that Phoenix hit an incredible glam. Kay, who had labeled Phoenix's rear end, just as she jumped out of the upper rope, slid to steal the pin when the crowd appeared huge for the young Australian day. "Championship B WWE" Kofi Kingston Def. Daniel Bryan (c) Via Panfall to win the title: Ã, after 11 years, there are no problems for Kingston, only parasso. The veteran of the WWE and one third of the new day withdrew an inspiring victory of the ages to marry an incredible narración of stories after an unlikely and organic offer. Crowned Kingston, since only the second champion of the African-American WWE male in the history of the promotion, it was certainly not in the books, as recently as two months ago, but the combination of the actuations in the Kingston Ring and the Eternal Support From the crowd they did the right thing. do. Of the Ironãa de Kingston, receiving a history of 2014 as the bryan itself in the way of the old school in This game was reserved, the crowd lived and died with every dramatic twist. Kingston finally fought against a long and debilitating attempt by Bryan from LeBell Lock to turn the crowd into a frenzy. He invested Bryan in a sequence of land and pound before returning the favor of previous moments holding Bryan's arms and kicking him in the face. Kingston lined up and hit its finalist Trouble in Paradise to light fireworks at the stadium shortly after the pin. The celebration sequence was one of the most memorable in recent history, as the two children of Kingston joined him, together with Xavier Woods and Big E, in the center of the ring. Grade: A- The "Weekend Update" boys are reviewed: Lessioned and contusions after being dominated by Strowman during the kickoff show, Che and Jost were checked in a Bliss said he would give them the best attention, and when the doctors turned around, they were Kevin Nash and Scott Hall with rubber gloves. United States championship Samoa Joe (c) def. King Mystery through submission to retain the title: Any 16-game letter will need one or two squash to keep the show moving. The good thing about this was that he even more cemented the dominance that Joe has been. The short combat was full of action, as Mysterio landed a 619 and mounted a dip on the upper rope. But Joe was able to catch him in the air and sit down Mystery. He applied the Coquina clutch and sat down for the quick touch. Recent injuries to Mysterio probably created the need for a quick match. Degree: C- Roman Reigns def. Drew McIntyre via pinfall: Out of the excitement shown by the crowd in the win of the WWE championship by Kofi Kingston, this one had a comedown game written everywhere. Although the party was physical, it was certainly nothing special. The reserve could also be questioned taking into account the heatThe one that McIntyre entered the game and how it seemed ready to take the title level of the main event in Raw. Instead, the WWE opted to give A victory that his character did not necessarily need, even with the remarkable nature of his return from the real life of Leukemia last month. On a card already full of sensation stories and inspirational moments, this one felt free. The reigns are late to pack a superman punch with a win spear. He himself playing guitar and piano. Finally, his performance was interrupted by a Babe Ruth video package calling his own shot at the New York Yankees in the 1932 World Series. He came to dinner, returning to his old heel trick as a rapper. Dinner delivered a series of bars that bury Elijah, including some that were more than qualifying PG. Then Elijah stepped on a clothesline, a combination of five knuckles and the return of the FU, the previous name of his attitude adjustment finish. Degree: B + Triple H DeF. Batista through Pinfall (it is not forbidden): If Triple H was lost, he would have retired. It is almost unfortunate that this party has arrived at the hour six of a Wrestlemania already tiring for fans because both boys told them a hell of a story and suffered a tremendous upsurge at all times. Was the party too long and reserved in the wrong place on the card? There's no doubt about that. But it's hard to ignore how brutal and good it was like the pair of WWE legends, both in and pushing 50, emptied the tank to a level far beyond what was needed for the party's importance. In the end, Triple H avoided forced retirement due to the stipulation and took home a tiring victory after Ric Flair ran to deliver a hammer to compensate Batista. Triple H followed with a hammer that ran hit the top of the stairs of the ring to get the PIN. The game was full of dramatic near falls, guns and table spots outside the ring and kickouts in movementsfinish. Batista was even remotegrade at an announcement table that Break and throw through a second. The time of the match was undoubtedly a psychotic triple H sitting in a chair on a fallen batista, as he used the needle nose pliers to satiate a nose ring. Grade: B + Baron Corbin Def. Kurt’s angle through Pinfall (farewell party): “Consistent with the story, the man who leaves the territory must leave behind him. Even if said match is against a fighter as untested by fans as Corbin. Fortunately for the fans, the game was short and largely painless (apart from the result). The angle landed four consecutive German suplevales and seemed to have the game won until it was badly lost on a top string map. Corbin continued with the end of the days for the anticlimatic finish. After the game, the angle thanked the fans and came out of its theme song one last time. Grade: D + Intercontinental Championship: Finn Balor Def. Bobby Lashley (c) Via Panfall to win the title: Sillegled with the placement of “corn popcorn party” before the main event, Balor returned as “the devil” and packed into a good deal of action in match that he rushed so much at midnight. the east coast. Lashley gave up the game spot when he threw Balor through the ropes and to the apron before the two crashed onto the floor. However, a second spear, saw Lashyle only get two. Balor then packaged an energy bomb with his coup de grace finish for the PIN. The convincing failure to the story ahead, without hurting this match, as well as the inexplicable use of Balor for which he summoned “The Demon.” Round Rousey (C) [via Pinfall] and Charlotte Flair (c) to win both titles: the historical WrestleMania closer, with women in the main event for the first time, ended somewhat anticlimactically, as Lynch had a pit of Rousey’s Piper on a roll. Without the abrupt ending, I couldn’t exaggerate what was an incredible performance of the three artists who were willing to risk everything in one Physical Lynch, who called her "Becky Two Belts" before Sunday's game, captured both women's titles in a party that used violence to cover himself by slightness. The true shame in this was that he did not start until midnight ET at the end of the tail of a spectacle that reached seven and a half hours long. The crowd was understandably dead despite an almost foolish amount of intensity shown by each fighter, which put on each strike apparently as rigid as possible. Rousey was bleeding from her elbow and had more grotesque bruises on her internal legs. Flair, meanwhile, favored his knee of him and was also bleeding from his arm. The spots were foolish and often with Flair landing a Spanish fly from the upper rope and Lynch later breaking an attempt of Figure 8 of Leg Lock in Rousey when landing a leg of the upper rope in Flair. Rousey also hit the back of her head on the floor after a Lynch dropkick sent her flying out of her's ring. The finish also appeared slightly bounced as Rousey's shoulders were visibly up during part of the three counts. Give women an A + for the type of effort that was worthy of their main event reservation.
