How to cite a textbook chapter

by Chelsea Lee After crossing a 500-page tome, you can find but one or two bright little facts relevant to your research. It might seem like going overboard to quote the whole book when you only used a paragraph or chapter... So what to quote, then, the chapter or the book? The type of reference needed depends on who wrote what. Basically, you should mention the largest entity that the author in question is responsible. Book references If the author has written the entire book, then provide a reference for the entire book. Here are the models for print books, electronic books and books with DOIs (print or electronics), respectively: Author, A. A. (Year). Job title. Place: Editore. Author, A. A. (Year). Title of work [E-reader version, if applicable]. Registered by Author, A. A. (Year). Title of work [E-reader version, if applicable]. doi:xxxxx Book References chapter On the other hand, if the chapter comes from a book in which each chapter is written by different authors (and the whole thing is put together by a publisher), then provide a separate reference for each chapter you used. Below are the models for the chapters of the edited books, for the print books, electronic books and books with DOI (both print and electronics), respectively: Author, A. A. (Year). Chapter title. In B. B. Editor (Ed.), Title of the book (pp. xxx–xxx). Place: Editore. Author, A. A. (Year). Chapter title. In B. B. Editor (Ed.), Title of the book [E-reader version, if applicable] (pp. xxx-xxx). Registered by Author, A. A. (Year). Chapter title. In B. B. Editor (Ed.), Title of the book [E-reader version, if applicable] (pp. xxx-xxx). doi:xxxx Information is provided here on the entire book and the chapter. This allows the reader to recover the book and to know who is responsible for both the entire book and the chapter in question.There are no page numbers in the electronic book, omit that part of the reference. OtherIf you read an e-book on an e-reader, such as a Kindle, Sony Reader or Nook, provide the version that you read (for example, Kindle DX version) in square brackets following the title, not italicized, as shown in the above examples. To help the reader find the mentioned material, you can provide additional details (page numbers, chapter numbers, etc.) in the text reference. Always give specific location information (usually, page numbers; here's what to do when there are no page numbers) for direct quotes; is optional for paraphrasing and other mentions. Additional information and real life examples are available in the sixth edition of APA Publication Manual, section 7.02 (pp. 202-205). Le Couteur, D., Kendig, H., Naganathan, V., & McLachlan, A.
