I thought if I could learn to turn off the rest of my day, it was time to simplify the dinner time. It happened innocently enough: I was making the chicken dressing for dinner and I realized that I had done too much for us for one meal. I thought, "Why don't you put half of it in the freezer?" I had done it before with lasagna, so I knew it would mean that the food would have a hostage from a frying pan for a few weeks, so I decided to go to the dollar store and buy some aluminum pans to put the second batch of clothes so I could have a meal ready. without losing a frying pan. The trip to the dollar store led me to find 15 different types of pans, which made my wheels spin... I could buy a few (I think I bought $10 worth 3/$1) and cater for all kinds of meals. I went with my frying pans, went straight to the grocery store, bought a ton of things I knew I could normally cook with (like chicken breast, hamburger, vegetables, etc.) and then went home and started a four-hour cooking marathon that ended with 28 meals on me. Freezer. When I finished, I mentioned it on Facebook, and there were many questions about what I did, recipe requests, and even tips for what I did. So I thought I'd write a post to share with you how 28 freezer meals in about 4 hours. Before we start, I'll tell you this post will be long... long. He could have broken this easily.a dozen smaller messages, but this is a DIY blog, not a freezer food blog, so I realized that my regular readers (before the frozen food) will hang with me for a post, if I started publishing all of this, separately, I could think I was crazy and stop reading. Please don't do it. Do you come back tomorrow and we'll talk about lighting or sewing or something, M'Kay? And also, I know I'm not a professional cook, I'm a South mom, who raised four kids and grown up eating this food. I hit the basic recipes we've eaten for years, so I knew what my family really ate. And when I originally wrote this post five years ago, I still had kids at home. But now we're empty nests and I haven't even figured out how to do them for just two people. * This publication contains affiliate links for your convenience * We will start with my freezer boards: 1) Make sure your kitchen is clean to start your freezer meals. He doesn't want me to clean up, then cook, because he's gonna be washing dishes while cooking at a quick fire. At least I was. I only have some pots and pans, some mixing bowls, a couple of batilloes, etc. I don't have a fully equipped kitchen big enough for an army. On a regular basis, I feed four people, so my kitchen reflects our needs. (2) Think about what you want to supply. I know we eat a lot of chicken foods, some with burgers, and a lot of pot-like foods. You can start with what you're in your pantry and build from there. It's an excellent way to make the most of what you have. Basically, they focused the freezer meals the same way they would with any food plan. 3) Clean your freezer. I only have the freezer in my side-by-side refrigerator. I've had a couple ofDeep freezers in the past, but they never used properly, so I get rid of them. I cleaned my freezer and found out that once everything was cleaned, it didn't just have enough room for all those freezer meals, even had aShelf to fill with my favorite ice cream (which I totally did) 4) stock up on freezer bags and aluminum pans. Those 3/1$ pans come in all shapes and sizes. I bought those that hold about 2 pounds of food, because 4 people divided by 2 pounds is 8 ounces each. That's a lot for the main course for us. Buy good plastic bags (I recommend ZIPLOC) in the size of the gallon and quarter gallon. 5) Wear comfortable shoes. I did it barefoot and my feet were killing me at the end of four hours. 6) Have help, if you can. I wish I had done it on a Sunday when my girls were home to help do the dishes, open cans, etc. I did most of the work when they were at school, but in the last hour I had help and it made my life easier. 7) Remember that this is not a fairy tale. In the middle, through you, I'm going to start thinking, "Why the fuck, I think this was a good idea?" Well, at least I did. When you are up to the elbows in Marinara and Casseroles, putting the meals out of the freezer, in the pans over and over again, you will question the whole mess. It's worth it. Well, it was for me anyway. 8) Sharpies are your friend. You can mark each meal with the name and date, so if you have some rogue freezer meals hanging in your freezer 2 years later (which may or may not happen here), then you don't have to wonder when you did it or what on Sam's Hill is on that plate. Also, with the lids on, they're all going to look the same. Sharpie up, baby. 9) Prepare in batches. Do you need onion for 4 freezer food recipes? Chop it all at once to make your life easier. Poach all your chicken into a pot (which will also give you a decent broth). Brown all your hamburger together and then divide it for different meals. If you have a lot to do, do it all together. 10) Free Pep Talk. I think that's what my advice, but I wanted to throw one more to say it if you really want to do this freezer thing, what you can. Once again, I have a basic set of pots and pans plus a one broth pot, a couple of mixing bowls (one large, one medium), a few wooden spoons and some smoothies. Ten plus is a good stopping point, which my brain appreciates. HOW TO STORAGE FREEZER MEALS Here are the things I recommend for storage: REDOND & RECTANGLEÃ¨ Ã¨ (enough for 4 people in each container) work very well for frozen meals. Of course, if you want to use smaller sizes, you can use smaller pans and the meals will be even longer. In Ziploc at both QUART and GALLON these days, as we are now empty nests, we usually use smaller containers (I'm going to get more frozen meals for two in a second). For the chili, salsas, etc, we usually use a room freezer bag with 2 cups of any recipe. It makes meals spread much longer.What I have found is to make sure that you are receiving good quality storage containers. The better the bags, the longer the freezer meals can stay frozen without sacrificing the quality of the test and the texture of the food.If your freezer has enough storage space, I strongly recommend using baskets to organize them so that you can see what's inside easily and things don't get lost on the back of the freezer. I also recommend using a calendar to plan your frozen meals so you know you're not going to end up with a ton of one kind left at the end. HOW TO LABEL FREEZER MEALS Before storing your frozen meals, you should make sure they are properly labelled. This includes: What are the meals in the freezer (example: Lasagna) Date of preparation (so you're not guessing a few weeks later) Reheating Instructions Any special notes (example: Veggie Lasagna vs. Meat Lasagna) HOW LONG CAN FREE MEALS IS Honestly, It depends on the food. We have never had to last more than 6 months, so I know that those who last so much are always good for us. But according to the USDA, most ingredients have safety guidelines that indicate different times. Here are some of your guidelines (taken from The meat can be frozen for 3-4 months. The chicken can be frozen for 9-12 months. Soups / scams can stay frozen for 2-3 months. Cooked meat / poultry can stay frozen from 2 to 6 months. So, according to them, there is a great variety. So it is frankly difficult to give a really accurate answer to the question of how long frozen meals can last. I try to side in the caution error and stay in the range of 3-6 months. Although, honestly, they never seem to last much longer than the guidelines. Just make it safe, okay? HOW TO RECALL THE COMIDAS FREEZERES There are really two ways you can heat the freezer meals from this Frozen Food Plan. Anyone will work, but some meals will need more time in the oven than others. 1) Cook directly from frozen. All meals are being reheated because everything is pre-cooked. All directions are ready, but most meals are frozen in a 375-degree oven for 35-45 minutes. I suggest using aluminum foil at the top for the first 30 minutes or so, then uncover at the end. For meals in a bag (such as marinara and chili) then you can simply put in a saucepan at the top of the stove and cook in medium until it heats all the way. or (2) Unfreeze meals first, then reheat. If you plan well enough to know what you're going to eat the next night, then take it out the night before and put it in the refrigerator. Once you are ready to cook, preheat the oven to 375 degrees, then cook for 20-30 minutes or until it is fully heated. Letting them thaw during the night in the refrigerator will help to accelerate cooking time, so it is a great way to save time if you are organized enough to remember to make this step.MAKE FREEZER MEALS FOR TWO PERSONS Since I first made frozen meals five years ago, we have become empty nes Teachers. Yes, all our little ones have blown up the henhouse, so we don't have that many mouths to feed. At first, it was a big challenge to figure out how to make frozen meals for two people. people. And yet, I have found that it is feasible with a couple of small retouchings, either in the way you prepare frozen meals for two, or in the way you consume them. First, you can store frozen meals in smaller containers. They will go further, warm up more easily and all around will last longer. Second, you can pack them as if you were planning for four people, but then save the leftovers for the next day's lunch. We hardly ever take this approach, but it is completely feasible if you pack a lunch every day. Just reheat in the microwave and you're ready to go. Or finally, cut the recipes in half. Most of them can be converted into mid-term recipes with quite ease. You'd need half the ingredients so it would be about half the cost of the whole freezer meal recipe plan.Do you want the list of purchases of the freezer recipes? Register to receive you by email directly to you! I started putting 5 packs of chicken breasts (15 pieces in total) in a pot of broth with water, to boil them all for the meals I needed. I used the biggest pot I had and I boiled them all. While the chicken was cooking, I used another pot and started to brown 12 pounds of ground meat (in a smaller pot of broth). Once all the ground meat was cooked, I drained it all and added 1/4 of it back to the pot to make my marinara. Freezer Recipes Carne Marinara Recipe 3 pounds of ground meat, cooked and chopped 1 medium onion, cut in cubits finely 4 garlic teeth, chopped 4 large cans of crushed tomatoes 1 12 oz. tomato paste can 1 huge (double size) bottle of good store bought marinara 1 tablespoon of balsamic vin Gargo Salt to taste (1 1/2 teaspoon or so) Pepper to taste (3/4 of a spoonful) To the ground meat, add garlic and garlicand let cook until the onions are soft. Add the rest of the ingredients and cook about 45 minutes over medium heat, until the flavors are combined. ++ If you do not want a lot of freezer recipes but you want a great impact, start here. You can use this sauce for dozens of  UsÃ © marinara to make 5 small lasians in 2.5 pound aluminum pans. FREEZER MEALS MADE WITH BEF EASY LASAGNA (one of the favorite recipes of my family's freezer meals!) (5 Freezer meals) Marinara meat Ricotta Cheese (Baby Baby) 1 Big Egg 1/2 Scoop Of Pepper Black Ground 1 Cup of Grated Parmesan No Bake Lasa noodles (2 boxes made of all mine) Cheese of mozzarella crushed (the bag type fully for me) â € œIt is difficult to say how much, but I used about 10 cups in Total in a small tazon mix the ricotta, egg, pepper and parmesan until they are fully combined. In the lower part of the pan, place enough sauce to slightly cover the lower part of the pan with a thin layer. Using a small spoon or scoop spoonful, add tablespoons of the ricotta mixture (I made 5 drops in each layer, one in each corner and one in the center). Add more marinara over and around the ricotta, sprinkle a thin layer of mozzarella, then add another layer of noodles. Make three layers, finishing the last layer of noodles with sauce and good layer of mozzarella cheese and covering with the top of carton. Let cool before putting in the freezer. When you are ready to cook, remove the top, cover with aluminum foil and bake for 35 minutes at 375 degrees, remove aluminum and cook for another 10 minutes or until the upper part is slightly gold and bubbly. Add a salad and a little bit of garlic bread and you will have a meal in a few minutes. After making my lason, I put the rest of the marinara in Ziploc Galon Bags, two cups on each, then crushed all the air and freezer them in the freezer. When I want to do spaghetti, I cook the noodles, warm the sauce, a salad and a little bread and it is already. * Easy Chili recipe (2-3 frozen meals) 2 pounds of ground beef 1 3 cans of chili beans 1 can Rotel tomatoes 1 can of tomatoes cut (14 oz can) 2 packs of chili condiment 1/2 spoonful salt 2 cups of water Put golden ground meat in a skillet saltedand cook until the onions are soft. Add in all other ingredients (including tomatoes juice) and cook for 30 minutes, hasty until the flavors have been combined. It is difficult to measure, but we used two gallon bags to put 1/3 of the mixture in each one, and then divide the rest into a couple of bags of fourth quarters for chili dogs or chips and chili cheese (things Where the Chili is not the main meal.) ++ This is another freezer recipes that are perfect for beginners and a lot of shapes can be used!  Hamburger casserole with easy cheese (3 freezer meals ago) for coverage: 2 pounds of ground beef (again, the mine was precooked) 1 onion, very finely straightened six cups cheddar cheese, grated for The bark: 5 cups of auto meal raised 3/4 cup of sour cream 1 egg 1 cup (most less) of water in a sauteed pan, cook together the ground flesh over medium high until the onion is gentle. Apart to cool. Make the bark first combining the flour, the egg, the sour cream and the water enough to gather it in a thick, but blurry consistency. Rocate the trays (using three round pans) and extended a layer of the dough in each. Sprinkle the mixture of cooled meat on the dough, then the top with approximately 2 cups of cheddar. Top with the lid. For cooking, Bake 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes, until the cheese is slightly gold and bubbly. For a variation, you could put some of the marinara in the mass, and have a hamburger pizza casserole with cheese. Sometimes we use Marinara to submerge, it's the perfect finger meal!  For the rest of the ground beef, I divide it into a pair of Quart Ziploc bags for neglected Joes or tacos.  FREEZER meals made with chicken now. Let's work on chicken recipes. All chicken triturÃ © and used it in several of the Next. Then that everyone was made, I put the rest of the chicken grated in ziploc bags of gallon size and froze for chicken tacos, barbecue chicken sandwiches, etc. Broccoli cheddar chicken chicken paste mackerel recipe (3 freezer freezer 3 cooked chicken breasts, crushed 2 boxes of pasta (useÃ© penne), cooked and drain 2 cans of Campbell's cheddar soup 2 cups of chicken broth (use the broth to cook the chicken) 2 bags of frozen broth 1 tablespoon salt 3 cups of cheddar Crushed Combine all ingredients except crushed cheddar in a bowl, divide into three pans, top with cheddar cheese. When ready to cook, bake at 350 degrees for 30-40 minutes, until hot and bubbly. Because I'm getting carbs, vegetables and proteins all in one dish, I usually add another vegetable and some garlic bread and that's it. So delicious!  Tex Mex Chicken saucepan (makes 4 frozen meals) 4 chicken breasts, cooked and crushed 8 cups cooked rice 2 can of tomatoes Rotel 2 packs of taco seasoning 2 cans of whole corn, drained 2 cans of black beans (submerged) 1 small black olive tin, drained 6 cups cheddar cheese, grated Mix all the ingredients in a bowl, except the cheese. Divide into four pans, then cover each with the cheddar cheese and cover with the cardboard topper. To cook, remove the piece of cardboard and bake to 350 until it is completely heated and the cheese melts (all ingredients are already cooked, so it's just a matter of heating it well). Serve with sour cream and sauce on top and tortilla on the side. Basic Chicken Pan Freezer Food Recipe Freezer (makes 3 frozen meals) 4 breasts of cooked chicken 5 cups of cooked rice 2 cups of condensed chicken cream 1 cup of chicken broth 2 bags of frozen peas and carrots (Used mixed, but you could use a bag of each) 1 tablespoon salt 1/2 Tablespo On of black pepper 3 cup of French onion 3 cups of crushed cheddar cheese In a small bowl, combine the cheese and onion together Ã¢¨ reserved (for filling) In a small bowl, combine the cheese and onion together¨ Large, combine the rest of the ingredients together, then separate in pratches. Cover each with 1/3 of the filling and freeze mixture. When I'm ready to cook, bake at 350 until it's completely hot hot The cheese melts (everything is already cooked in the pot).  Edited to add: Chicken and dressing (do 3 frozen meals) a large corn pan (use your own favorite recipe) cooked and crumbled 2 cans of chicken soup 1 can of medium onion broth, finely cut and sprinkled in butter 2 tablespoons of earth sage 1 1 1 tablespoons salt 3/4 * Mixed all the ingredients together, placed in pans and frozen. When ready to cook, bake at 350 degrees for about an hour. Be sure to have cooled cranberry sauce and basic chicken sauce for the side, because that's what a good southerner would do ðŸ TM, * My Total Freezer Meals Stash Recipe: 5 Lasagnas 2 prefabricated marinara bags (for spaghetti) 2 bags of chili (more 2 extra small bags for chili dogs / nachos) 3 cheese burgers casserole 3 broccoli cheddar chicken paste horkes 4 tex mex chicken cass 3 slips of chicken 2 bags of ground meat (Read more Well, that's, honestly, for you to decide. For me. If you leave, you can really start the recipes with a freezer very easily. I spent an hour at the grocery store (and spent $300 to produce all those meals, in addition to all my other essential items for two weeks, so maybe $ 200 went into this), and spent four hours cooking to get all those freezers. meals. We eat every night. There are things that my family likes, that it carriesLittle time to do and really should become fresh (like potato soup). These meals will probably last two months in total, if you take a couple of nights a month to eat outside, making fresh fresh Between, etc., but the four hours basically give me an easy meal every two nights for two months. It's totally worth it to me! I don't know I could force my family to eat lasagna five times in a month. But eating frozen foods five times in two months is quite realistic. So these freezer recipes come quite useful! Now that I know what it is for dinner, I think I'm gonna sew something, or paint a chair... or reorganize the furniture. Whatever it is, something that is much more in my comfort zone than with the recipes of the freezer! Do you want the list of the freezer recipes? Register to get it sent by email directly to you!
