Hospitals and health systems announced 14 transactions during the second quarter of 2020 – not significantly lower than the 19 transactions reported in the second quarter of 2020.1, while due diligence of labor law issues is always fundamental in a merger or acquisition, it is a complex task in medical care sector transactions. COVID-19 pandemic requires an additional level of analysis on employment issues in the health sector, highlighting the importance of this critical aspect of the merger and acquisition process. The following is presented an overview of the main considerations related to employment law for health transactions in ERA COVID-19. Status-free purchasers should assess whether employees were duly classified under relevant federal and state wage laws and hours. For example, nurses can be classified as exempt professionals under federal law, but not under California law. In addition, while intermediate levels, such as medical assistants and nurses, can be classified as exempt, licensed practical nurses are typically without exemption. In addition, in January 2020, the federal minimum wage required for exemption status was raised from $2.660 to $35.568 and many states have higher requirements. Given the complexities that may arise with health professionals, the ratings must be reviewed in detail by the buyer or justified by the seller, ideally with job descriptions adapted with specificity to the controlling authority. Historically, independent contractors, is common in the health sector for doctors and intermediate levels employed based on contractors, usually playing ,axiab ,axiab etnemlevitucsidni ajes aterrocni oÉÃ§Ãacifissalc ed oÉÃ§Ãacidnivier amu agart socid©Ãm so ed ocsir o arobmE .soir¡Ãnoicnuf omoc sodacifissalc serodahlabart sortuo euq saferat samsem And state decisions have discovered, in certain circumstances, that the mothers were indeed poorly classified as contractors, and the litigation of the classification of non -mothers is common, both on an Aã base Individual and collective. In addition, some more recently caliphan states have adopted a rigorous test. £ o that of employer/employment. The Califmon Law provides care for moms, but in jurisdictions where ABC test applies, contractor status to other employees will probably be subject to challenge. EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENTS Employment Agreements are usually keynote, such as controlling control, options, equity interests and similar clans, which may affect the value of the target . In addition, buyers will be wanting to ensure that the main executives, sales employees, and others are not going out and starting to compete; Thus, the existence and scope of clinuses of not competition and non-lycity must be examined. Caliphnian historically refused to impose non-compliance agreements, with certain exceptions, and some states, such as Colorado and Florida, promulgated limits on no-o-no-ok. Employment agreements must also be reviewed for the duties, choice of law/venue, cause/good reasons termination rules, responsibility for nose and tail malaise insurance, and other provision Key. Immigration Buyers should assess whether the filled and correct I-9 forms are file for each active employee, and all recently finished employees. SÃ £ o I-9s stored electronically, and if so, is this storage system in accordance with federal regulations? Is the I-9 subject to an audit or investigation of DOL or ICE? You They can usually choose to keep existing I-9s, or have all new full employees. If the existing I-9 retained, any errors transfer to the buyer. If new I-9s are completed, they must be done within three business days. Buyers should assess existing I-9s to determine which path to take, and targets should take appropriate action to address any outstanding issues. Due diligence must also examine whether any employees have an employment-based immigration status, such as H-1B, J-1, O-1, or TN. Some employment-based visa classifications are easily transferred to the new entity, whereas others require filing and approval of a new petition. Similar concerns apply to employees seeking lawful permanent resident status¢ÂÂÃsome processes are easily transferred, and others can be disrupted by a merger or acquisition. Before taking issues to address immigration matters, however, consult with counsel, as self-audits and remedies can raise additional legal issues. LABOR RELATIONS Does a union represent all or part of the target¢ÂÂÃs employees? Alternatively, has any union organizing taken place in the recent past? If a union exists, the collective bargaining agreement must be reviewed, and negotiations with the union will likely be necessary if terms or conditions of employment will be impacted by the deal. The buyer also should evaluate how the bargaining units have been structured¢ÂÂÃare they limited to nurses, for example, or do microunits exist? In addition, the degree to which any labor unrest exists, including a history of unfair labor practice charges, should be evaluated. BENEFIT PLANS AND EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION COMPLIANCE Buyers should conduct due diligence on retirement and other broad-based benefit plans to confirm that benefits to furloughed and laid-off employees were provided in accordance with the relevant plans¢ÂÂÂ terms and applicable laws. Whether furloughed employees are permitted to continue participation in health plans without COBRA elections will depend on the terms of the relevant plan and underlying insurance seµÃ§Ânesi matsixe arobmE .sievÂgele soir¡Ãnoicnuf arap acid©Ãm a§Ânecil a e ailÂmaf a ridnapxe e adarenumer acid©Ãm a§Ânecil recenrof a sodagirbo oÉÃs soir¡Ãnoicnuf 005 ed sonem moc sodavirp serodagerpme so e onrevog od serodagerpme so ,ARCFF a boS .edºÂas ed rotes o arap aicn¢Âveler ralucitrap moc ,aicnªÃgilid adived ad otcepsa ovon mu ©Ã sailÃmaf sad)ARCFF(surÂvanoroC od atsopseR ed ieL an seµÃ§Âaretla setnecer sa erbos odazilauta ¡Âtse ovitejbo o eS surÂvanoroC oa atsopseR ed ieL oriemirP sailÂmaF .otnemahcef e arutanissa ertne aimednap Ã sadanoicaler seµÃ§Âaretla sartuo uo/ e" o§Âop od e sotnemagap e "sotnemagap sod oÉÃ§Âneter" reuqlauq a otnemitnesnoc ed sotierid mahnetnam serodarpmoc so euq ritnarag arap soir¡Âidemretni soinªÃvnoc soa laicepse oÉÃ§Âneta rad es-eved e ,sa§Ânadum siat ed oÉÃ§Âagluvid a rigixe arap sodarobale res meved arpmoc ed sotartnoc son sa§Ânadum ed aicnªÃsua ed soinªÃvnoc sO .ovla- aserpme ad sariecnanif seµÃ§Âartsnomed san saditelfer marof seµÃ§Âasuca sA adanoicaler adanoicaler edadilibatnoc a e ,soir¡Ãilibom serolav e sotsopmi ed setnaveler siel sa moc odroca ed sadatnemelpmi marof seµÃ§Âaretla sasse euq ramrifnoc meved serodarpmoc so ,)sun´Ãb ed siauna sonalp me sodacifidom sotnemagap/satem uo seµÃ§Âa ed seµÃ§Âpo ed seµÃ§Âidorper ,olpmexe rop(sovitnecni ed oÉÃ§Âarenumer ed sodroca sues me seµÃ§Âaretla maratnemelpmi euq ovla- saserpme araP .oir¡Âtubirt ogid³Âc od adirefid oÉÃ§Âarenumer ed sarger sa moc edadimrofnoc me sadaruturtse marof seµÃ§Âuder sa euq ramrifnoc meved serodarpmoc so ,seµÃ§Âapucoerp sartuo uo axiac ed oxulf oa odived oÉÃ§Âarenumer ed seµÃ§Âacifidom uo seµÃ§Âuder sartuo uo soir¡Âlas maratnemelpmi euq ovla-saserpme araP .siev¡Âcilpa siel sa e etnaveler onalp od somret so moc odroca ed sadatnemelpmi marof)rodagerpme od aicnªÃdnopserroc ed seµÃ§Âiubirtnoc san oÉÃ§Âuder amu ,olpmexe rop(seµÃ§Âaretla reuqsiauq euq ramrifnoc arap solpma soicÃfeneb ed sonalp sortuo e airodatnesopa an aicnªÃgilid adived a razilaer meved m©Ãbmat serodarpmoc sO odapucosed odapucosed kroY avoN ed laredef otirtsid od lanubirt mu ,otsoga ed 3 mE .seµÃsulcxe sassed samugla ratievorpa ed edºÂas ed edaditne amu ed edadicapac a ratimil edop lanubirt od etnecer oÉÃsiced amu ,aicnªÃgreme ed sepiuqe e edºÂas ed soÃivres ed serodatserp ed serodagerpme so arap specific provisions of the FFCRA regulations including the ¢ÂÃÂwork-availability¢ÂÃÂ requirement; the expansive definition of ¢ÂÃÂhealth care provider¢ÂÃÂ; the provisions relating to employer consent for intermittent leave; and the documentation requirements as a precondition to taking leave. Though there is some uncertainty as to the impact of the ruling, in the interim, buyers should evaluate healthcare targets for coverage under FFCRA. Further, buyers should assess whether a target has administered FFCRA leave in compliance with all applicable regulations, as violations can lead to potential enforcement actions, as well as private lawsuits for unpaid wages and liquidated damages. ANTI-DISCRIMINATION/ANTI-HARASSMENT Several large verdicts rendered for sexual harassment in hospitals and other healthcare settings in recent years have made analysis of the culture of the target company a critical part of due diligence. The target should have detailed anti-discrimination and anti-harassment policies in its employee handbook, with an acknowledgment of receipt of the handbook in the file for all employees. In addition, sellers should be prepared to show that they have conducted anti-harassment training, ideally for all employees, but at minimum for managers (except in states such as California, where training for all employees is mandatory). Analysis must also be done of whether a history of lawsuits, audits, or investigations suggest a culture of non-compliance. The target should be prepared to show, with appropriate documentation, that if it has experienced instances of inappropriate conduct, prompt and appropriate remedial action was taken. WORKPLACE SAFETY Workplace safety compliance is always a critical part of due diligence for any industry, but since the onset of COVID-19, the legal risks associated with safety issues have increased. Employers are already being sued for allegedly failing to protect their employees Covid-19 and, although these claims are arguably anticipated by the workers' compensation laws, they will almost certainly continue to be filed. In addition, numerous claims from denouncers were filed against employers in the medical care sector by not taking appropriate measures to solve security problems related to Covid-19, and the media coverage of employees subject to supposedly insecure environments was extensive. Thus, buyers should pay extra attention to OSHA compliance, relatable incidents, disease prevention plans and injuries and policies and preparation for the CoVID-19. Notice law according to the American Hospital Association, despite billions of dollars in federal relief for the health sector, US hospitals must lose more than $323 billion as a result of CoVid-19 pandemic, largely due to a lower volume of patients after cancellation elective procedures. In response, healthcare employers have attempted to cut costs by implementing furloughs and layoffs, with nearly 270 hospitals and health systems implementing furloughs or layoffs in 2020. Under the Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification (WARN) Act, subject to certain exceptions, employers with 100 or more employees must notify at least 60 days to workers in case of mass dismissal lasting more than six months or closing a factory. In April, the Department of Labor issued guidelines on the Covid-19, confirming that the Commission-related resignations will not receive any special exemption under the Warn Law. In addition to warning, the state acts of "Mini-Warn" should also be examined. For example, employers involved in mass layoffs or plant closures, as defined in California Mini-Warn Law, have received a limited relief from law notification requirementsas long as they notified as soon as possible. 1 Kaufmanhall: Report of Merger Activity and Health Care Acquisitions: Q2 2020 2 ```042 042 rebmuN , and , and ,
